

Sinawo Sigalelana

Sinawo Sigalelana is an Electrical Engineer who has worked in the manufacturing, engineering consulting and energy sectors. His expertise include assisting municipalities with revenue enhancement, asset management, infrastructure planning and embedded generation.

He currently works for Sustainable Energy Africa as a Technical Advisor assisting over 80 municipalities with Small Scale Embedded Generation Processes and over 40 municipalities with the development of their Cost of Supply studies.